United States Now Ready For UN Showdown

Seeks To Defer Security Council Action On Disarmament And Atom Procedure

SEEKS DELAY TO FEBRUARY 4

By PIERRE J. HUSS
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)
LAKE SUCCESS, N. Y., Jan. 18.—The United States has sufficient support in the Security Council today for its showdown on Monday to defer disarmament and atom procedure until Feb. 4.

Informal talks by American delegation members with most of the other council delegations disclosed a general tendency to grant enough delay until the basic changes in the State department and such relevant developments as the merger of the armed forces under one department have had time to settle.

Expect Opposition
Stiff opposition without doubt will crop out mainly from the Soviet side, with the familiar support that Andrei Gromyko again will press his demand for immediate action on the appointment of a disarmament commission.

An intermediary issue hanging fire before the council at present, namely Britain's complaint against (Continued on Page Two)

Forrestal May Be Defense Secretary

By WILLIAM K. HUTCHINSON
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)
WASHINGTON, Jan. 18.—President Truman's favorite for appointment as the new secretary of national defense appears today to be James Forrestal, present secretary of the navy.
Mr. Truman, however, does not have to make up his mind for a couple of months—the time Congress probably will require to enact legislation creating the new department of national defense. The situation may change by that time.
At the moment, Forrestal seems to be the favorite as overall civilian head of the separate army, navy and air force organizations.
May Be Civilian Chiefs
The three secretaries to serve as civilian chiefs of the fighting outfits are expected to be:
Secretary of the army: Present Secretary of War Robert P. Patterson, of New York.
Secretary of the Navy: Present Undersecretary of the Navy John L. Sullivan, of New Hampshire.

Federal Reserve Board Announces
WASHINGTON, Jan. 18.—(INS)—The Federal Reserve Board, convinced that inflation "has largely run its course," was ready today to ease government controls on stock market transactions.
The board announced that margin requirements for dealings in stocks will be reduced from 100 per cent to 75 per cent cash on February 1. The action restores regulations prevailing in 1945.

In revealing the move, Chairman Marriner Eccles said that the board has acted because "economic conditions and prospects have altered materially" in the past year. He declared:
"It now appears that inflation has largely run its course . . . accordingly some readjustment in margin requirements is appropriate at this time."

The Federal Reserve Board chairman said that the 1946 production had reached new peacetime levels and that supplies of goods and services were now more nearly in balance with demand than they were last year.
He pointed out that stock prices, in contrast with other prices, have been declining to a point where the level is now about the same as that existing when margin requirements were 75 per cent.

Some Of Byrd Expedition Is Being Unloaded
By LEE VAN ATTA
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)
ABOARD USS MT. OLYMPUS IN ANTARCTICA, Jan. 18.—Ski-pers and crews of the central command group of the Byrd expedition, to the South Pole today prepared to unload ship in the hazardous Bay of Whales, while expedition leaders explored the famous Antarctic base—Little America.
The U. S. naval expedition was ready to go ashore with supplies and equipment as soon as vessel commanders gained full knowledge of the maritime hazards which lurk in the vasty altered bay.
The transport Yancey holds first unloading priority as soon as Capt. Charles Thomas, skipper of the ice-breaker Northwind, signals the harbor is safe for one vessel to enter and tie up, alongside the polar continent.

Rear Admiral R. H. Cruzen, commander of the expedition's vanguard, reported the Northwind had ploughed up more than three square miles of ice in the bay, where at places it measured 12 feet thick.
Cruzen said he is abandoning the use of Bailey bridges to cross pressure gaps in the ice in favor of dumber spans. He indicated he is completely satisfied on the basis of shore party reports to get ready to begin the unloading operations.

Byrnes Will Be First To Affix Signature To Treaties For German Satellites

By JOHN A. REICHMANN
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 18.—Stabilization of Europe's economic and political structure appeared a step nearer today with publication by the council of foreign ministers of the treaties which Germany's five satellite powers will be asked to sign.

Under the agreements, Russia stands to collect 900 million dollars in reparations over the next eight years. Reparations claims have been waived by the other major powers in most instances, although Albania, Greece and Yugoslavia may collect to a lesser extent for Italy's attack on them.

Details Published Before
Most details of the treaties, printed in five thick volumes in English, French, Russian and the language of the defeated power in each case, have been published piecemeal. This was due to the fact that the "Big Four" foreign ministers who drew the final drafts reported their deliberations day by day.

The volumes themselves, aside from their historic importance, are a monument to the work of James (Continued on Page Two)

Fire Scare Occurs In Chicago Hotel

Morrison Hotel Guests Are Calmed Down By Telephone Operators During Small Blaze

CHICAGO, Jan. 18.—(INS)—Prompt action by telephone operators and house detectives was credited today with avoiding a panic among guests of Chicago's Morrison hotel during a fire.
The minor blaze occurred late last night in a paper chute running from top to bottom of the building.
Frantic guests—with the La Salle hotel fire tragedy in mind—commenced to rush for fire escapes and exits. But telephone operators and house detectives joined in calming the fears of the guests.
Automatic sprinklers had brought the blaze under control by the time firemen arrived.

Marshall James Gibbons of the first division said the fire apparently resulted from someone dropping a cigarette into the paper chute.

Los Angeles Police Hunt Girl's Slayer

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 18.—(INS)—The manhunt for the sex maniac who tortured and butchered Elizabeth Short, pretty 22-year-old brunette known as the "Black Dahlia," turned today to a handsome, red-headed ex-Marine flyer called "Red" and "Bob".
The flyer, described as formerly a lieutenant in the Marines, became the number one suspect in the grisly case on the basis of information supplied by Dorothy French, a San Diego theater cashier, and by an unidentified patient at the San Diego naval hospital.

The patient told investigators that "Red" was "some kind of a supervisory phlegm" for marriage and that "he got Betty (Miss Short) a temporary job during the Christmas rush in their office in San Diego."
Miss French revealed that the ill-fated girl apparently left San Diego with the flyer, after receiving a wire from him, eight days before her cut-in-two nude body was found in a vacant lot in south-west Los Angeles.

Surprise Develops As Newly-Elected Lieutenant Governor Is Sworn In Early

NEW TURN SEEN IN BATTLE IN GEORGIA

(BULLETIN)
ATLANTA, Ga., Jan. 18.—(INS)—Georgia's knock-down battle for the governorship entered a new phase of befuddlement today when Ellis Arnall relinquished his claim to office and, at least temporarily, left his foe, Herman Talmadge, the sole claimant to the throne.
Arnall's dramatic move shifted the spotlight to M. E. Thompson, who a few minutes earlier was sworn in as lieutenant-governor.

Thompson took the oath in the senate chamber before Appeals Judge Hugh McIntyre, but he declined to say whether he would assume the duties of acting governor, as Arnall claims he legally is bound to do, or whether he would be content to serve as lieutenant-governor under the Talmadge reign.
He said he would have a news conference at 2 p. m.

Atlanta, Ga., Jan. 18. (INS)—Gov. Ellis Arnall today resigned as governor of Georgia.

Arnall announced that the resignation he sent to Secretary of State Fortson on Jan. 11 was effective as of 10:50 a. m. today.

M. E. Thompson was sworn in as lieutenant-governor at that time.

Thompson's Statement
Thompson issued the following statement shortly after taking oath: "I announced on Thursday, Jan. 16, that I intended to take my oath as lieutenant governor of Georgia in the presence of the senate next Monday when they reconvened. "Since making that announcement, I have been advised by the attorney general of Georgia that under the law it might be necessary that I take my oath before the expiration of this week. Accordingly, I have taken my oath as lieutenant governor of Georgia this morning in the senate chamber before the Honorable Hugh McIntyre, one of the judges of the court of appeals of Georgia.
"Following my previous announcement of my intention to take my oath of office Monday in the (Continued on Page Two)

Employees Of Nixon Hotel At Butler Share In Funds

BUTLER, Pa., Jan. 18.—(INS)—It was a happy day for 80 employees of the Nixon hotel at Butler, who were showered with unexpected money.
Employees of the hotel 20 years today will receive $500 each and the others $100.
Besides they will each receive $250 additional from the proposed sale of the Butler landmark. A sum of $20,000 has been set aside to be divided equally among them when the hotel is sold.

That's their share in the settlement of the disputed $750,000 estate of Simon Nixon, late owner of the hotel.

The Butler County Memorial hospital will receive half of the estate. Nixon's sister, Mrs. Helen N. Fosythe will receive the remainder.

Despite the fact there were two wills in the case—one in 1915 and another in 1945—Mrs. Fosythe said it was her desire to carry out her brother's charitable bequests.

Produce Strike In Philadelphia

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 18.—(INS)—The Quaker City was virtually cut off from fresh fruit and produce today as a walkout continued at Dock street wholesale houses.
Earl J. Gratz, counsel for the Philadelphia Terminals Marketing association and the Association of Fruit and Vegetable Distributors, which represent about 250 firms, said no settlement is in sight.

The tie-up began this week when the AFL-Produce, Poultry, Fish and Oystermen Drivers and Helpers union called a walkout in support of its demand that office help be required to join the union.

Detroit Father Held On Charge Of Wife Slaying

DETROIT, Jan. 18.—(INS)—A 29-year-old Detroit war veteran, father of two children, is being held for investigation today in connection with the fatal shooting of his 36-year-old wife.

Anthony Mankowski, an ex-infantryman, is accused of shooting his wife, Elizabeth, in bed last night.

Homicide Detective Sgt. John Edwards quoted Mankowski as saying that a German war souvenir automatic he was carrying accidentally discharged as he was getting into bed. Police said Mankowski was too intoxicated to make a coherent statement.

One of the couple's children, Kenneth, 6, and Douglas, 4, awakened the dead woman's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Billeck, who live in a lower flat.

Billeck told police he found his son-in-law kneeling at his wife's bedside with a prayer book in his hand.

SECURITIES CO. MAKES CHARGE AGAINST LOVE

torney for the John S. Chapman interests which had money in trust with the First Securities Company.

Mr. Love was removed as president of the Securities company on Wednesday, January 14, during the annual meeting of the company and Mr. Jackson was named president in his stead. Alderman L. Claude Mantz placed the ball at $100,000.

Following the filing of the information against Mr. Love, Mr. Jackson made the following statement.

"The First Securities Company is a Pennsylvania Corporation organized in 1926 for the purpose of liquidating certain assets of the First National Bank of New Castle which assets did not go into the merger of the First National Bank of New Castle and the National Bank of Lawrence County. These two banks were merged and became the First National Bank of Lawrence County on January 1, 1927.

The First Securities Company has had no connection with the First National Bank of Lawrence County or the Union Trust Company of New Castle or any other bank or trust company. The First Securities Company has never done any business with the public, but existed solely for the purpose of liquidating the assets received by it from the First National Bank of New Castle.

"The default was discovered on the afternoon of January 14, 1947 when John S. Chapman and Russell W. Jackson representing more than one-third of the stock of the company attended the annual meeting of the stockholders on that day. Mr. Love, who has been president of the company since 1924, submitted a statement of assets and liabilities as of December 31, 1946 which showed a net worth of $232,317.00. Mr. Love was asked to produce the stocks and bonds belonging to the company. After some hesitation Mr. Love stated 'I might as well tell you now, the securities are nonexistent.' The annual statement showed stocks and bonds at a cost of $133,338.13. The current market value for these securities is approximately the same. The annual statement showed cash on hand to be $48,629.15. Upon examination the cash in bank appears to be $13,786.27. The books of the company indicate that Mr. Love had borrowed $50,000.00 from the company secured by 492 shares of stock of the Union Trust Company of New Castle. Notes in the face amount of $50,000.00 were found in the company folder but Mr. Love admitted that there was no security for his loan. He further stated that the shares in fact have been pledged elsewhere.

"Mr. Love was removed as president of the First Securities Company and Mr. Jackson was elected president and treasurer of the company and Mr. Chapman was elected vice-president and secretary.

"The exact amount of the default cannot be ascertained until the books have been completely audited, but on the basis of the statement presented by Mr. Love showing what should be on hand on December 31, 1946, the default is in excess of $200,000.00.

Mr. Love started his career in banking many years in the New York City. After some years of experience he was made Argentine manager of the National City Bank of New York City with headquarters in Buenos Aires. Over twenty years ago he returned to New Castle and has managed the estate of the late George Greer in addition to his banking connections here.

McKEESPORT, Pa., Jan. 18.—(INS)—Add to the high cost of living.

McKeesport juke box operators today boosted the price from five cents to a dime a record... much to the alarm of the bobby sox brigade.

No sooner had the operators upped the price when the city fathers put the bite on them. The city council took a first and second reading on an ordinance that will hoop the license fee from $10 to $25. Regardless of the new dime slots and the tax fee hike the bobby soxers said they planned no boycott.

"Red" visited the girl once at the French home. Miss French said: "He was a big, good-looking fellow with wavy red hair. He had a wonderful smile. His teeth sparkle, they're so white."

Immaculately Dressed "He is built like an athlete, with broad shoulders. He was immaculately dressed and seemed like the kind of person who'd always dress like that. He was wonderfully well-mannered."

Miss Short was to have stayed only a night at the French home. She stayed a month and finally was asked to leave because the house was too crowded with her there. A day before she left she received this telegram, apparently in response to word she had sent to the ex-Marine flyer:

"Wait, I'll be down for you, Red." The wire was traced to Huntington Park, Los Angeles suburb. There it was learned that the message, instead of being written in ordinary handwriting, had been carefully printed.

Since the United States never has declared war on Finland, Byrnes will not sign the peace treaty for that country.

UNITED STATES NOW READY FOR UN SHOWDOWN

Albania, will be taken up as soon as the decision has been taken on the American postponement motion. Disputes from Tirana, capital of Albania, asserted that it would be difficult for the Albanian representatives who are to defend their country against the charges to arrive at Lake Success in time. British sources retorted that this was "obviously a stall."

In British delegation circles it is indicated that an extensive mass of testimony and documentary evidence is ready for presentation before the Security Council. The British accusation concerns the alleged mining by Albania of the Corfu straits. Two British destroyers hit mines there Oct. 22, 1946, with a toll of 44 dead and serious damage to both warships.

Will Stress Plan The interval between Monday and Feb. 4 from the standpoint of the United States would be used to clarify further among the other ten delegations the reasons why American tenaciously has insisted and will continue to insist that atom control must precede any general disarmament steps.

Sources closely in contact with the State and War departments in Washington indicated here today that while somersaults are scarcely to be anticipated in American foreign policy, Secretary of State Gen. George C. Marshall undoubtedly will pattern out a concrete program of procedure as soon as he has taken hold.

The delay at Lake Success until Feb. 4, these sources pointed out, would give Warren R. Austin an opportunity lengthily to consult with Marshall on the several vital problems now actively under consideration or awaiting discussion at Lake Success.

Talmadge Means Legislation Talmadge, meanwhile, laid plans to call down the first plank in his political platform of his father, the late Gov. Elect Eugene Talmadge. He announced he would present a bill in the legislature Monday to reinstate Georgia's traditional law prohibiting negroes from voting in the Democratic primary.

The "white primary" was repealed under the Arnall administration. In effect, the law would nullify the negroes' right to vote. The Democratic primary usually is tantamount to election in Georgia, even though Talmadge claims that approximately 700 votes he received in the Nov. 5 general election entitles him to succeed Arnall in office.

Assistant Secretary of War for air W. Stuart Symington, of Missouri. Curiously enough, the army is plugging privately for the appointment of Forrestal to head the new national defense organization. Top army reasoning is that the unification will get off to a better start if the navy—which fought the merger for many months—is convinced from the start that it will get a fair break.

With their own civilian navy head directing unification, army brass says the navy will believe it is being treated fairly and therefore will cooperate more sincerely to make unification a success.

EXPECT MARSHALL WILL TAKE POST NEXT TUESDAY

in order for him to arrive in Washington by Tuesday.

Plans for the swearing in ceremony probably will be arranged at the White House shortly after his arrival.

It is possible that President Truman will motor to the airport to greet Marshall on his arrival in the nation's capital.

At all events, the highest possible tribute will be paid to the new secretary of state when he is administered the oath.

President Will Attend

The outgoing secretary of state, James F. Byrnes, who had to retire because of a heart ailment; the president himself, and others of the nation's highest ranking officials will attend the ceremony.

Since Mr. Truman became president, the honor of having a presidential appointment sworn in by Chief Justice Fred M. Vinson has been accorded to only one other man. That was the present secretary of state—Byrnes.

Meanwhile, the president may act immediately in presenting the army-navy compromise plan for merger of the armed forces to congress.

The chief executive is expected to transmit the new plan for combining the nation's defense forces under a single secretary for national defense to the congress in a matter of hours, urging their speedy action.

It is anticipated that the president also will suggest an outline of proposed legislation to be acted upon by the congress on the unification proposal.

Federal Aid To Schools Is Issue

WASHINGTON, Jan. 18.—Federal aid to bolster America's declining public school system is likely to be shoved aside in the great economy drive now on in Congress. But that will not happen without a contest.

There are indications that opinion is at long last aroused over the failing condition of public education in almost every state in the union. The people back home are letting their congressmen know that this means in terms of closed schools and hopelessly crowded classrooms. Editorial writers are dwelling on the danger to a nation that neglects the fundamental.

In principal most members of Congress would be for some degree of Federal aid. But it is over the size and kind of aid that they disagree. And because they disagree, violently and in a variety of ways, the probability is for no action at all.

Sought Federal Subsidy

In the last Congress, Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio joined with two Democrats, Sen. Lister Hill of Alabama and Sen. Elbert D. Thomas of Utah, in sponsoring a bill which provided a moderate Federal subsidy for Education. About $250,000,000 a year would be allocated to states unable, out of their own revenues, to spend a minimum of $40 a year for each child of school age. The state would receive an allocation based on the proportion of its income devoted to education.

About 33 states would be eligible for aid under the bill. Texas would get $21,758,000, North Carolina $21,752,000, Alabama $18,648,000, Georgia $17,000,000 and Wisconsin would range down to $73,000 for Montana. Fifteen states, those with high educational standards and large revenues from concentrated wealth, such as California, New York and Massachusetts, would get no benefits.

At the other extreme is a proposal to make up to $2,000,000,000 a year available to the nation's schools, without regard to need in the separate states. This bill shortly be reintroduced under the sponsorship of Senators James E. Murray and Claude Pepper, Democrats, and probably Sen. Wayne Morse, Republican.

Will Be Introduced

The Taft-Hill-Thomas proposal will also be reintroduced. Taft is for it again. But he does not hold out much hope for its passage. Congress will turn down the Murray-Perpe-Morse proposal, as Taft sees it, and this will kill all chance of any aid to education.

If Taft set out earnestly to work for the moderate bill, it would almost certainly pass the Senate. But this is an economy year and the Republicans are looking for ways to cut down on Federal spending. Taft might "get by" if he gave the proposal lip service without worry about much over whether it was passed.

There are at least two major differences between the Murray and the Taft schools of thought on this matter. One, of course, is the difference in the amount of money appropriated. A second major difference is that the Murray bill makes the Federal money available to all schools, parochial as well as public.

Here is another source of controversy. Taft believes that only public schools should get Federal funds allocated to education. To allow parochial schools to get similar benefits is to override requirements fixed by the states themselves, as the senator from Ohio sees it. This raises the Catholic issue, which has been acute in some states where free bus transportation for public and non-public school pupils is in dispute.

Powerful Lobbies

The two most powerful lobbies pushing aid to education are the National Education Association and the American Federation of Teachers, an AFL union. The Teachers' union will fight hard for the Murray bill, with its big appropriation. The NEA, an independent organization, would probably settle for the more moderate Taft proposal.

Jealousies and rivalries divide these two organizations. This further complicates the problem of getting agreement on a measure which the present Congress would pass.

No other issue illustrates quite so well the paralysis that is likely to freeze this Congress into inaction. And it will be so easy to pass this bill along to someone else.

The conservatives say, "If it weren't for those radicals, with their impossible, harebrained proposals, we might get a moderate measure adopted." The radicals will say, "If it weren't for those reactionaries, who want to block everything, we could make progress."

So the ball will be batted back and forth and the score when the game ends is likely to be zero or close to it.

ABOUT DRESS

Men and women, young and old. Differently small things behold.

Women, when they sit to chat, Note each other's choice of hat.

They'll remember weeks or more, What it was each other wore.

Men give neither thought nor care To the garb their comrades wear.

Many a wife has lived to find Unto dress her man is blind.

This her rage has often stirred; New dress on, but not a word!

Hair-do new, and freshly gown'd, From her husband, not a sound!

LOOKING AT LIFE

By ERICH BRANDEIS

As you know, Japan is a broken country. There is hunger there and destruction, there are misery and want.

Slowly democracy is being filtered into that stricken country and hundreds of problems of tremendous importance confront its millions.

For the first time in Japan's history women have been taken out of the classification of slaves to their men and are given equal rights.

So naturally you would expect the women to rise to their opportunity and become leaders in great causes.

In the city of Kyoto, Mrs. Yoshiyo Oishi, one of the first women elected to the Diet, is campaigning for Mayor of this former capital of Japan.

Kyoto has suffered terribly from bombs and the general havoc of the war, and there are many things to be done to bring the city back to even a resemblance of normal life.

But what do you think is Mrs. Oishi's slogan, on which she expects to be elected?

"Equal sake (rice wine) and tobacco rations for the women of Kyoto."

And, because of the great number of women's votes in Japan, she probably will be elected.

What is there so important about sake and tobacco that they overshadow all the problems of state-manship, of economists, of politics?

I'll tell you what.

Nothing is more important to the human being than the things that concern himself.

You don't have to go to Japan to find that out.

When it was almost impossible to get meat here in our country almost any candidate for office, who could have produced meat would have been elected.

Right now, if we were in a Presidential election year, I am sure that the candidate who would promise American housewife an unlimited amount of unrationed sugar and butter at twenty-five cents the pound, would be sure of an overwhelming majority of the female vote, provided he could make his promise sound plausible enough to be believed.

And I am almost sure that a candidate who could make us believe that he would reduce the price of Scotch whiskey to $2 the bottle, and of Bourbon to $1.50, would have a much better chance of being elected than his opponent who might talk about great economic, social and political improvements.

I can't recall the origin now, but there is a very old verse I learned many years ago:

"So, if unprejudiced you scan

It takes courage to say no in many cases when friends ask you for favors which you know you should not grant. It is not rude to decline them; it is the correct thing to do.

The Lord is merciful and gracious, slow to anger, and plenteous in mercy.—Psalms 103.8.

The Parent Problem

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

MUCH PRACTICE NEEDED TO MASTER PIANO

A few of the music geniuses of all time were, during childhood, so fond of making music on an instrument that they did not have to be required to practice. A few of them, indeed, went on practicing when their parents tried to keep them from practicing. Even today, once in a great while you may hear of a child who will practice faithfully and regularly without being urged or told to do so. Such children are so few in number that if only they acquired a high degree of musical skill how small would be the number of children ever to grow up to be reasonably good musicians.

Thanks to the stimulating influence of the school music program, however, some children are attaining considerable dexterity on orchestral or band instruments. Yet out of our total population the number of such children is pitifully small and we are bringing up only a handful of children to be good pianists and violinists. Indeed, the string instruments are being more and more neglected in school music. Their mastery necessitates a lot of hard work at practice. Besides, you can't strut with a violin.

A Recent Article

You probably read in the recent number of the Reader's Digest an article by a father who, having failed to persuade his son to choose to practice, this boy growing up without any music skill, decided to do better by his daughter now seven years old.

Accordingly, the father invited to his home a friend, a famous violinist, who was coming to the city in which this father lived, to give a concert. The guest chose to practice instead of eating dinner. The father supposed that his daughter surely would be impressed and would wish to emulate this celebrated violinist and choose to practice faithfully henceforth. But it didn't work. Indeed, the youngster explained that if this great musician after so many years of playing the violin still had to practice, she saw no good reason for her practicing at all. The father closed the article with two questions: "What do I do now? Any suggestions?"

Not A Practical Idea

Even if the plan had worked it would not be a practical pattern for most children. This whole episode illustrates how far people otherwise intelligent will go with the ultra-progressive educators who assume that anything a child is expected to do should be made an immediate pleasure to him; that he should never be expected to do anything he doesn't feel like doing.

Applied to music practice, it is about the silliest doctrine ever dreamed of.

Though I don't suppose my volunteered advice fell on fertile soil, I wrote this father about as follows:

On the assumption that your daughter has some true ability to learn music, I suggest that you announce to her she shall practice daily henceforth for a definite period (say 20 minutes); that each time she fails to do so without being reminded or urged, she shall have to sit doing nothing in a chair and without any amusement for three times the length of the practice period. I am taking it for granted, of course, that you would not be lying to the child in this announcement.

You can so proceed with the hope that as the youngster acquires some music skill the practice will grow less and less repellent to her and that, eventually, her pleasure from achievement will cause her to choose on her own free will and accord to practice.

Rio, Bogota Conferences Facing Long Postponement Powerful Machinists Union May Re-Enter Federation Declares Maps Do Not Mean What They "Say"

(Special to Central Press)

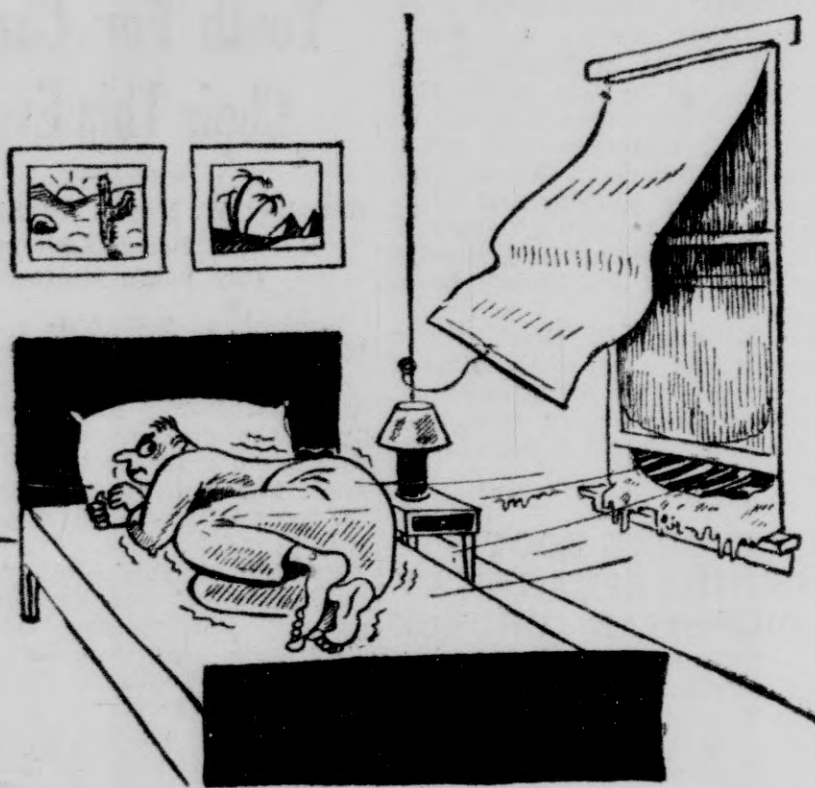

WASHINGTON, Jan. 18.—Informed diplomats see little chance that the long-delayed Rio de Janeiro conference of American foreign ministers will be held in the foreseeable future.

In fact, most of the western hemisphere nations do not want it now. The reason—the Argentine situation is too ticklish and there is no desire to discuss hemispheric defense alliances with President Juan Peron's men sitting in.

Furthermore, a solution of the Argentine situation seems nowhere near. The only hopeful sign is the continued student strikes which often in Latin-American countries end up in revolution.

Some speculation exists, too, on whether the Bogota conference of American states will take place as scheduled this year. It, too, was to have been held in 1946, but was postponed because of the international situation.

YOU'D FREEZE TOO IF YOU WEREN'T COVERED!

MAYBE your pipes wouldn't burst, but that's what often happens to water pipes that aren't properly protected against bitter cold.

TAKE THESE PRECAUTIONS NOW:

- Wrap exposed water pipes with old newspapers, rags, or burlap.
- Turn off and drain outside fixtures.
- Make your basement snug. Repair broken window panes. Stuff cracks in walls, around windows and doors which admit cold air.

On extremely cold nights, open one faucet located highest in your house and let a small trickle of water run all night—one quart a minute is enough.

'Daniel Boone' Dance-Play Well Received Here

Edwin Strawbridge Dramatization
Presented Friday Evening
At High School

"Daniel Boone," a play with dancing, presented Friday evening in the senior high school auditorium by Edwin Strawbridge was a colorful, tuneful dramatization of the frontier period in American history. It was "good theater" not only for children but for adults and was enthusiastically received.

The play was accompanied throughout by music that added greatly to the play's dramatic quality. Authentic frontier and Shawnee Indian costumes were responsible for much of its effectiveness.

Edwin Strawbridge's dancing, seen here last year when he presented "Christopher Columbus" was a delight to watch as was also the graceful dancing of blond Gwyn Blundell as Mary Pepperell. In his role of Daniel Boone, Strawbridge executed the intricate hoop dance as a solo interlude.

Cast For Play

Others in the cast were Richard Gamble as Charlie Pepperell, Jack Deuel as Tom, John Lupton as Steven, Virginia Barrie as Dolly, Sharon Murphy as Delight, Robert Turner as Joe, Richard Rapp as Yellow Snake, Robert Turner as Black Fish and Jack Deuel as Gray Wolf.

Between acts, Miss Esther Barrett, pianist, entertained the audience with several selections including "The Music Box" and "Flight of the Bumble Bee."

Settings for the three acts of the play were respectively a clearing near Salt Lick, Shawnee village in Kentucky, and inside the stockade at Boonesborough.

The play was written by Charles Monroe, directed by Miriam Tulin. Margaret Carlisle composed and arranged the music, scenery was designed by Robert Rowe Paddock, and costumes by Henry Omond.

It was the third in a series of four stage entertainments for children to be brought to New Castle this season by the Federation Junior club.

Election Boards To Get Increase

Commissioners Announce Raise Of $1 Per Day For Election Officers

OTHER NEWS OF COURT HOUSE

Election officers and constables serving at the polls on election days will get an increase of one dollar per day, the county commissioners announced today. In preparing the budget for 1947 the commissioners decided to increase the stipend for election day service from $5 to $6 each. This will include the judge of elections, the two inspectors of election, two clerks and the constable or deputy constable.

The increase means six dollars per day for the primary and general election in each of the ninety-nine precincts. This means an increase of $1,188 for elections per year.

Election board judges and inspectors have been paid $5 per day for the first 100 ballots polled and $1 for each hundred polled over that amount. In addition the judge gets additional compensation where he takes the box to the polls and returns it.

SET TERMS

On Friday the county commissioners set the terms of the five men comprising the Lawrence County Housing Authority which supervises the housing project in Ellwood City. The terms are as follows: P. R. Pike, chairman, 5 years; Joseph B. Leyde, vice chairman, 4 years; Ralph Herge, 3 years; Kenneth Fox 2 years and U. A. Leivo, one year.

PAROLE VIOLATION

Benny Parillo, sentenced to eight months in the workhouse on April 23 for indecent exposure and who was paroled on December 5 was brought before Judge W. Walter Braham on Friday for violation of his parole and sentenced to serve the remainder of his term.

BAR BANQUET

Following the usual custom the Lawrence County Bar Association will hold a banquet this year, sometime between February 21 and March 2 it was announced today. Attorney Merle Hildebrand is the chairman of the banquet committee with Attorneys Charles Diugoken-ski and Allen D. Keller with him on the committee.

NON-CITIZENS AT HOME

A survey of the citizenship status of the residents of the county home shows 36 of them to be aliens, according to County Commissioner Joseph F. Travers. The entire number living in the home is 13.

Occasionally a resident there is deported on the grounds that he has not made a living for himself for at least four years since being in the country. If it can be established that the resident made himself a living for four years, he cannot be deported.

Intensify Search For Two Convicts In New York City

NEW YORK, Jan. 18.—(INS)—Search was intensified in New York today for the convicts who escaped from the old Raymond street jail.

Two men shot and killed Motorcycle Patrolman Harry Schiffrics who had stopped them when they ignored a red light signal. Schiffrics died after six hours on the operating table and numerous blood transfusions.

Police assigned 50 detectives to track down the slayers of Schiffrics. It was believed by police that the slayers were escaped convicts as they shot the patrolman without warning when he had halted them for a routine query.

It was established that Schiffrics was killed by a bullet from a nine-millimeter gun, probably from a Luger pistol or one of foreign manufacture. The bullet was found in a taxicab in which Robert Newhouse, 46, insurance broker, was riding. The bullet struck Newhouse and wounded him in the loin. He was reported in good condition.

Nine convicts escaped from the Raymond street jail Jan. 2, and only two of them have been arrested.

UN Will Fight To Keep Peace

CHICAGO, Jan. 18.—(INS)—Warren R. Austin, chief United States delegate to the United Nations, made it clear today that the UN will fight aggressor nations to keep the peace.

At the same time, Austin announced that he will continue to fight for the "veto-less" world atomic control demanded by Bernard M. Baruch.

The former Vermont senator and American security council spokesman declared that until a fool proof atomic control treaty becomes effective, the United States must remain militarily strong.

Austin's remarks were made last night in a dinner speech before the council of state governments.

Never again, he said, will this country disarm unilaterally.

Austin asserted that use of the veto power in the UN council to protect an aggressor nation would nullify the UN charter. He said: "There is only one certain answer to nullification—war in support of the law and of the union."

Protests Plan To Boost Rents

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 18.—(INS)—District President Thomas J. Fitzpatrick of CIO-United Electrical, Radio and Machine Workers today announced he had formally protested administration plans to permit a general rent increase.

Fitzpatrick said he had wired Gen. Philip Flenneg, director of the Office of Temporary Controls in Washington, asserting that plans for the rent increase were "viewed with alarm by our thousands of members in western Pennsylvania and West Virginia."

He said that while net operating income of properties, according to figures of the OPA of last September, had increased, net income actually had increased when such factors as the fact there virtually are no vacancies, no competitive redecorating and no reconversion problems are taken into consideration.

Prepare To Begin Pre-Easter Drive In County Churches

The Eight Weeks Pre-Easter Increase campaign stressing increases in evangelism, Sunday school attendance, church attendance and Bible study will start Sunday, February 16 and continue until Easter, being sponsored by the Lawrence County Sunday School Assn.

Sunday schools that participated last year are requested to furnish the average attendance for the calendar year, 1946, as well as for the eight weeks of last year's campaign which closed with Easter Sunday, April 21.

The first Sunday school to furnish these figures was the First Baptist of New Castle. While this Sunday school was not one of the winners, still their figures are very encouraging. Their average attendance for the calendar year, 1946, was 431. Their average attendance for the eight weeks of the campaign was 520, or an average gain per Sunday during the campaign of 89. This makes a total gain for the eight weeks of the campaign of 712 over the average for the entire year.

There are other Sunday schools participating that have higher gains than this. However, in practically all cases, it will be found, that the best attendance of the year was during the campaign for those taking part.

Decries British Film Failure To Earn Money In U.S.

LONDON, Jan. 18.—(INS)—Sir Stafford Cripps, British Board of Trade president, today decimated the failure of British films to make money in the United States.

In an address before the J. Arthur Rank organization, England's largest motion picture concern, Sir Stafford criticized the fact that inferior American films shown in the British Isles show enormous box office returns while better English films receive only a moderate reception in the United States.

TRUCK OPERATOR TO BE GIVEN NEW HEARING BY PUC

HARRISBURG, Jan. 18.—The public utility commission today ordered another hearing to allow Caesar A. Frazzini, Erie truck operator, to present new testimony on his application for additional service rights.

The commission explained that Frazzini sought permission to transport merchandise between Erie and Girard and North Girard. Date for the hearing has not been fixed.

At a previous hearing only one representative of the four companies Frazzini desired to serve appeared on his behalf. The firms claimed by Frazzini were North Girard Hardware Co., C. G. Wood Co., Lake Erie Foundry Co., Inc., and the Wolfe Engine and Machine Co.

Around Hollywood

HOLLYWOOD, Jan. 18.—(INS)—John Garfield is quite ready to admit today that being your boss has some disadvantages.

John made his observations while working in his first picture since he went out on his own after his seven-year Warner contract expired.

It's "Body and Soul" for Enterpriser, which he co-produces as well as playing the starring role.

Garfield said: "Now I've got to set a good example for everybody. I can never be late to work. I have to make certain I'm on time every day. 'Beside that, I've always got to be sure I know my lines.'"

After two years of hard work, Barbara Stanwyck finally has a vacation and no one knows better than she how she needs it.

She has persuaded Hal Wallis to let her out of a picture she was scheduled to start this month. Paulette Goddard will replace her.

She's just finished the latest Erich Maria Remarque story, "The Other Love" and she has a couple of days work in Paramount's "Variety Girl."

Then she's off for three weeks at Palm Springs to cure a cold which has been plaguing her for two weeks. Even her doctor has been giving her heck for working when she shouldn't.

"I hope to get a good long vacation because I need one," Barbara said. "I have a commitment to do a picture for Warner's this spring, but I hope they don't call me too soon."

A group of studio topnotchers were playing cards one night at the home of the big boss. The question of a forthcoming picture camp-up and a notable who wrote the script said:

"I know a first class young actor in New York we could get for the male lead. I think he'd come out here for $500,000."

"Is he really good?" the boss said.

"Yes," said the writer.

"Well," said the boss, "see if you can get him on long distance and make the deal."

The writer put in a call to New York, but the actor was out.

They played cards for a while

Lack Of Landing Aids Blamed For Air Mishap Rise

WASHINGTON, Jan. 18.—(INS)—Theodore P. Wright, civil aeronautics administrator, estimated Friday that 33 percent of last year's airline accidents could have been prevented by complete instrument landing equipment.

Wright based his estimate on the number of major accidents which occurred in landing and approach of aircraft at or near airports.

These, he said, constituted roughly one third of the crashes, and most of them could have been eliminated by complete blind landing equipment at the airports and in the planes.

The CAA official said that complete installation for instrument landings included both ILS (Instrument Landing System) and GCA (Ground Controlled Approach).

At present the CAA has complete ILS installations at 33 airports and is installing GCA at New York, Washington and Chicago.

Meanwhile, the House Interstate Commerce Committee voted unanimously at its initial meeting today to open public hearings Wednesday in an effort to determine the cause of recent air accidents.

Among those being asked to testify are officials of the Civil Aeronautics Administration, Civil Aeronautics Board and the Department of Commerce.

TRANSPORTATION RATE RISE TO BE BATTLED IN COURT

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 18.—(INS)—The City of Philadelphia went into Superior court today in an attempt to block an increase in transportation rates on the community's subway, elevated and bus lines.

Mayor Bernard Samuel petitioned the court to restrain the Philadelphia Transportation company from imposing rate increases scheduled to go into effect Feb. 5.

The new rates will become automatic at midnight Feb. 4 unless the Public Utility commission rules otherwise before then.

The PTC's petition for higher fares would up rates to four tokens for 25 cents or ten cents for a straight fare. Present rates are eight cents straight fare or two tokens for 15 cents.

ADVISES ORCHARD MEN TO IMPROVE GRADING, PACKING

HARRISBURG, Jan. 18.—(INS)—Orchard operators in the Pennsylvania Horticultural association were advised today by J. Eric Linde of Orefield Northampton to improve their grading and packaging of fruit to maintain a profitable business.

Linde, speaking to the association at the annual Pennsylvania State Farm show, said grade standards must be returned to their prewar level. He advised placing only U. S. No. 1 grade apples on the market, and sending lesser grades to canners for juice or canning.

Armored Cars On Warsaw Streets

WARSAW, Jan. 18.—(INS)—Armored cars carrying troops armed with machine guns appeared on the streets of Warsaw today as security precautions came into evidence the day before the bitterly-contested Polish elections.

Prime Minister Edward Osobka-Morawski in his final campaign speech before Sunday's balloting declared he would develop an independent Poland.

He said: "Poland has no intention of building a Soviet system here. We will develop our own political and economic structure and foreign policy."

Strange Death Termed Suicide

NEW YORK, Jan. 18.—(INS)—Police today termed the strange death of Anthony C. Trabasso, 18-year-old commercial art student, an "apparent suicide."

The youth was found yesterday morning a few doors from the rooming house in which he lived with the word "Nazi", a swastika and a letter "A" scratched out on his chest with a pin or penknife. Police at first were inclined to believe Trabasso, whose home was in Poughkeepsie, N. Y., had been subject to attack. They declared the case a suicide when they found scrawled on the wall of his room the words: "Nazis at Pratt" and a notebook containing the words "Nazis at Pratt, help me," and the notation "Hitler suppresses masses".

Trabasso was one of three non-veterans at Pratt Institute and police said he had been brooding over the fact.

He was clad only in pajamas when found and police said he apparently had walked over several roof tops before plunging to his death.

Students and instructors at Pratt Institute said Trabasso had been moody and lax in his studies lately and that he seemed to hold it against himself, despite his youth, that he had not been in service during the war.

WHY IS MOTOR TRUCKING SAFER TRANSPORTATION

There are many reasons, but first of all we would put the personal element. Every PMTA truck driver that takes a load of merchandise over the road feels a personal responsibility in the safe delivery of it. He is trained that way, he believes in safety and he knows that accidents could involve him as well as the truck.

PMTA truck operators use only equipment that is right and inspection of equipment is a regular affair. And from the loading dock to the delivery platform, or your own home, safety is the impelling motive that sets your merchandise down safely and quickly.

It pays to "Ship By Truck". For modern motor trucking is a personalized business with every employee having a stake in the proper delivery of cargoes.

Durocher Keeps In Limelight On And Off Of Field

Durocher Makes Headlines Every So Often, Much To Rickey's Chagrin

By LAWTON CARVER
(International News Service Staff Editor)

NEW YORK, Jan. 18.—Some of the baseball people are a little perturbed over the antics of Brooklyn's Leo Durocher.

While they admit he has done nothing wrong in a baseball sense, they still feel that he is giving himself and baseball much the worst of it through his various extracurricular activities which in recent months have kept his name in the headlines.

Leo is a rough free-wheeling sort of a guy who means no harm perhaps, but he seems unable to go quietly about his career as a baseball manager, and the old guard-bred to the belief that baseball is a dignified calling beyond the common obscenities of life—are slightly agast at times.

Promised to Behave
When Branch Rickey came upon the Brooklyn scene Durocher was made to promise publicly that there would be no more high-rolling poker games on the club, and there was talk of his being expected to shun known gamblers.

For a time after that, he was virtually a living breathing replica of the good little boys, and then that dice game was held in his apartment and a sucker bled.

There was the case, too, in which he was alleged to have punched a Brooklyn fan, then came garish news stories from Hollywood about his love life, and a piece about his being nailed for speeding.

Strange Manager
You can pick all that apart and not find much basis for argument against the fellow, but when you put all the items together you have a picture of a strange sort of baseball manager.

For the most part they are only a little less jealous of the fair name of their profession than an umpire, and try in their own sometimes floundering way to live an unimpeachable life.

That is traceable partly to their fear of censure and partly to the fact that a successful baseball manager simply is galled that way. They are entirely human, not above an occasional drink but for the most part they are content with what ever success they can glean master-minding and gathering splinters on the bench.

Terrific Fighter
Durocher is cut from an entirely different pattern. He may be and probably is the best and the highest-salaried manager in the majors. He is a terrific fighter on the ball field, and, as fans, he still is the best possible choice to run the Brooklyn club. He and that club were made to order for each other. He fits into that sort of a setting.

But his critics insist that sooner or later he is going to be hauled on the baseball carpet, regardless of the current attitude of his boss, Mr. Rickey, and Commissioner Kipp Chandler that what he does off the diamond is his own business.

Grant New Trial To Canadian Woman Sentenced To Hang
TORONTO, Ont., Jan. 18.—(INS)—Evelyn Dick, of Hamilton, Ont., who was scheduled to hang February 7 for the murder of her husband, John Dick, was granted a new trial today by the Ontario Supreme Court.

The court ruled that there was evidence of "third degree" methods used by police in obtaining several conflicting commission form the woman. Date for the new trial was set for immediately.

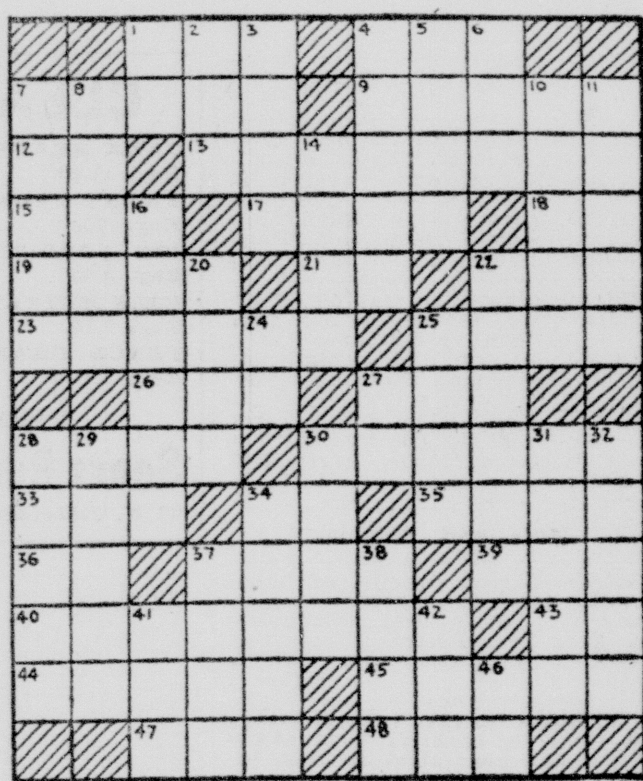

Mrs. Dick's father, Donald MacLean, 68, and William Bohozuk, 27, also of Hamilton, Ont., are charged with the same murder. They were implicated by Evelyn in one of her disputed confessions.

The decapitated and dismembered body of John Dick was found last March on a Hamilton mountainside five months after he married Evelyn.

ACHES AHEAD
SALEM, Ore.—(INS)—Oregon's 99 senators and representatives will have to bed down on their desks during the legislative session unless a lot of Salem householders come to their aid. It appears now. The housing situation in the state capital is now said to be "the most acute in state history."

Senator's Dignity Somewhat Ruffled In House Elevator

Elevator Operator Wins His Point
And Goes Down, Senator
Wanted To Go Up

WASHINGTON, Jan. 18.—(INS)—Somewhere in the capitol there is today a United States senator whose dignity has suffered a cruel blow.

It all happened because the senator, who represents a mid-west state, forgot that the dignity accorded members of the upper chamber does not necessarily extend to the House.

In the Senate, when a member wishes to use an elevator, he rings three times and the operator promptly brings the car. Non-members in the car must wait until the senator has been delivered to his floor before the operator will take them to their destination.

In the House, however, the members are accustomed to waiting their turn. Apparently unaware of this, the senator stepped into a House elevator and informed the operator: "Up".

The young man replied to the senator: "I'm not going up, I'm going down."

The senator protested: "But I want to go up." The young man retorted: "I'm still going down." And he did!

Franklin Students Honor Anniversary Of Franklin's Birth

Celebrating the birthday of Benjamin Franklin, the students of Ben Franklin Junior High school had an assembly program Thursday which combined biography of the famous American with some history of the school.

Opening with devotionals, which included a solo, "Faith of Our Fathers," by Angela Esposito, the two-part program was announced by Mary Jo Vitale.

During a mock class meeting, at which student council president Joe Hahn presided, the group discussed what should be done to celebrate the birthday, and between acts, the student body sang "Cheer, Franklin, Cheer" and the Franklin football song.

The second part of the program was a biographical sketch of Franklin's life by Sylvia Cicerone, and a short series of facts about the school, given by Eleanor Sikosilis.

In a question-and-answer session, Walter Jenkins quoted the speech made by Senator Pepper at the dedication of Franklin Junior High school.

Shirley Morelli gave the school creed, and the students sang the Alma Mater, following it with the Franklin Code of Ethics and the song "Pennsylvania."

Miss Marian Campbell, Mrs. John Magee and Miss Esther Gibbons. Many other students took part in the assembly.

Motorists Lose Operators' Cards

Five New Castle motorists were included in the latest action of the bureau of highway safety which removed operating cards for violations of the highway code.

One driver lost his card for failure to maintain proof of financial responsibility, another failed to yield right of way and three were caught speeding.

During the week ending January 3, the bureau withdrew the cards of 221 drivers. Of this total, none were revoked and 221 suspended. Operating privileges were restored to 321 persons.

TEACHERS TO GET FREE SCHOLARSHIPS

HARRISBURG, Jan. 18.—(INS)—The department of public instruction reported today that approximately 70 teachers will be awarded scholarships to attend the Pennsylvania conservation laboratory at State College this summer.

Superintendent Francis B. Haas said the scholarships would be made available by the state advisory committee which sponsors the conservation project.

The three-week sessions were financed by conservation organizations and studies cover stream pollution, soil management, topography, weather and climate, Haas said.

World's Champion Casting Made In New Castle

Here is the 472,000 pound steel casting made in the New Castle plant of the United Engineering and Foundry company as it was being lifted from the mammoth moulding pit in the plant. Destined for the Ajax Manufacturing company of Cleveland, O., the casting will be the press frame for a 6000 ton capacity forging press.

Larger than any casting ever before cast in the history of the world, the New Castle plant of the United Engineering and Foundry company has shipped the casting shown in the above picture to the Ajax Manufacturing company in Cleveland, O. The casting, which is to be used as a press frame for a 6,000-ton capacity high speed mechanical forging press, weighs 472,000 pounds.

The patterns for the huge casting, made by the Eclipse Pattern company of Pittsburgh, required over 30,000 feet or almost a full carload of lumber, 500 pounds of nails, 10 gallons of lacquer and more than 2,500 man-hours labor.

Over 1,250,000 pounds of specially prepared moulding sand was required for the mold and 3,600 man hours spent on this operation. The mold was formed in a pouring pit 18 feet wide, 39 feet long and 16 feet deep, large enough to hold a small house.

Four open hearth furnaces poured molten metal simultaneously into four ladles, which in turn were carried to the pit by overhead cranes. The 600,000-pound main pouring was accomplished in four and one-third minutes, after which 100,000 pounds of additional molten metal were poured at several intervals to make up for the shrinkage.

A special 90-foot freight car with 12 wheels at each end were required to carry the casting. A special movement was required for the transportation of the casting with the speed restricted to a maximum of 10 miles per hour.

The casting sets a new high in the moulding industry, and Howard B. Cummings, superintendent of the New Castle plant of the United Engineering and Foundry, and his colleagues are justifiably proud of their achievement.

Plans Are Made For County Rally

Program Being Arranged For Mid-Year Efficiency Conference
On January 30

Lawrence County Sabbath School Association will hold its annual mid-year efficiency conference and rally at the First U. P. church, Glenmore boulevard, this city, a week from next Thursday, January 30, afternoon session starting with registration at 2:15. Fellowship dinner at 6:15 and evening session at 7:30. The conference-rally is for adults, young people and children's workers.

State staff representatives will be either or both of the following, as both have been requested: Rev. Melvin L. Best, newly elected weekday education supt., and Rev. Ivey J. Shuff, director of young people's work.

The afternoon session will deal largely with activity planning, including the eight weeks pre-Easter increase campaign, etc. However, at some time during the conference-rally there will be sound motion pictures, a visual education demonstration and camp views. This may be at the period between the afternoon session and the Fellowship dinner or at one or more of the group conferences at the evening session. These group conferences in the evening will be for adults, young people and children's workers.

Letters have been mailed to ministers, Sunday school superintendents, county and district officers containing reservation slips for the Fellowship dinner. Especially have the Sunday school superintendents been requested to send delegations of adults, young people and children's workers. Special recognition will be given the districts having the best attendance of officers and departmental superintendents, and substitutes will be allowed for those not able to be present.

There will be a general conference-rally session at the beginning of the evening meeting before dividing into groups. After the group meetings, they will reassemble for a brief consecration service and fellowship circle.

Order Officials To Start Action On Sewage Project

HARRISBURG, Jan. 18.—(INS)—Officials of three Washington county communities today were under orders from the state sanitary water board to comply with the clean streams program within 60 days.

The board reported that representatives of Canonsburg, Houston, and North Strabane township, were given two months to decide whether they will form a joint sewage treatment works plan or act independently.

Bentleyville officials were given 60 days and West Brownsville representatives a month in which to submit "more complete reports" on plans for sewage treatment works, the board said.

The agency referred to the justice department the case of Charlestown township, Washington county. Township officials failed to appear before a board hearing yesterday.

General Business Shows One Per Cent Increase From 1945

State College Research Bureau Reveals Industrial Areas Had Better Trading

STATE COLLEGE, Pa., Jan. 18.—With retail trade enjoying its best year in 1946, general business in 20 leading industrial areas of the state was up one per cent from 1945, according to the Bureau of Business Research at the Pennsylvania State college.

Based on bank debits, factory payrolls, and industrial power sales, general business last year was the second best on record, being exceeded only by 1944. The bank debits index was credited for the excellent showing since both payrolls and power sales fell below those reported in 1945.

Using 1935-39 as 100, the index of general business averaged 210 in 1946 and ranged from a low of 173 in February to a high of 277 in November.

1947 Uncertain
Despite the present high level of production and trade, there is much uncertainty about 1947, especially the latter part of the year. Prices rose sharply in 1946, reaching an all-time peak. There is some doubt as to whether or not demand can be sustained throughout the year at this price level. There are already indications of consumer resistance to high prices and inferior quality, especially in the food and luxury business, the report stated.

Some form of business reaction or recession has been widely predicted for 1947 and it is believed that the higher prices go, the more certain it is to take place.

While retail trade reached a peak in 1946, it is expected that 1947 will see sharp competition return to the soft goods trade. Prospects are brighter, however, for the durable goods line where demand is still high. Further price increases, the bureau warns, will curtail sales, even for goods in greatest demand.

Champ Spud Grower Tells How He Did It

HARRISBURG, Jan. 18.—Kenneth Grove, who with his father, J. E. Grove of Felton, York county, in 1946 produced 782½ bushels of potatoes on a measured acre to set a new national record for non-irrigated land, held the spotlight today before the Pennsylvania Cooperative Potato Growers Association at the farm show where he told how they did it.

Kenneth is one of a group of Pennsylvania young potato growers who last year produced 1,361,000 bushels. Another in this junior group, Charles Meckley, Hanover, who won $50 first prize offered by the association for biggest yield from a single tuber, said he grew 57 pounds of potatoes in eight hills, all planted from pieces cut from the same spud. There were 80 growers in the contest.
